DPP DS513 Leadership, Management and Culture for Safety (Revision and expansion of GS-G-3.1 Step 3)

Helen Rycraft
Operational Safety Section
Division of Nuclear Installation Safety
Department of Nuclear Safety and Security
Justification, Objective and Scope

- Document GSR part 2 published in 2016

- Current revision and enhanced guide (DS513) initiated to
  - Provide general guidance for the implementation of the requirements in GSR part 2 Leadership and Management for safety
  - Improve the guidance on leadership, management, culture for safety for non-nuclear facilities and activities
  - Incorporate feedback from member states and Fukushima Daiichi.
Interfaces with Existing and/or Planned Publications

As Management, Leadership and Safety culture is a wide ranging area, an excel sheet was provided to the Standards Committee web site.

This will be updated and developed as the Guide is drafted and will form the basis of a ‘road’ map for leadership, management, and culture for safety guidance in IAEA documents.
Overview of Document

Only the high level content is identified in the DPP:

Section 1: Background, Objective, Scope and Structure
- Normal description of history and development

Section 2: Guide on Generic requirements of GSR part 2
- Generic Concepts
  - Requirement 1

Section 3: Leadership and Culture for safety
- Requirements (1), 2, 12

Section 4: Management for safety
- Requirements 3-11

Section 5: Improvement
- Requirements 13, 14
Status of the Document

• DPP approved by Coordination Committee in April 2019

• Submission to NUSSC as lead Standards Committee and all Safety Standards committees for approval to submit to CSS
